

NEW SEMINAR ON FAMILY

WORSHIP/DEVOTIONS NOW AVAILABLE!!!

Churches and Christian leaders have been asking CMI for years to have a short seminar (fitting into an evening or Saturday morning) on how to kick off a dynamic Devotional Program or Family Worship Time for churches. Every Christian knows that they should have some form of devotional worship time for their homes but simply can't get one started. NOW YOU HAVE AN OPPORTUNITY TO BRING CMI IN TO START ONE! Read the article, "Getting the Most Out of Family Devotions" for a big incentive to do this soon.

Details:

1. This is a one evening/morning seminar lasting from 2-3 hours. Therefore, it could be accomplished on a Wednesday night, Friday night or Saturday morning, or any other short period where busy parents are available.
2. CMI will have all the materials to help stimulate reluctant parents to start having family devotions. Materials and reference guides are available from CMI (1-888-345-4264), or the PCA bookstore (1-800- 283-1357) during and after the one day seminar.
3. The hosting church is responsible for covering the minimum travel cost to get the CMI representative to the meeting location (40 cents a mile or air travel) from Atlanta. Great news----the honorarium is left to the church and can be substituted or complimented by a "free will" offering for this non-profit Christian ministry.
4. The speaker can stay with a church member (this has been done successfully throughout the country!).

5. If you desire to add one of our other successful seminars onto this "Family Worship" seminar we can do a seminar on "Teaching Teachers to Teach", "Covenant Discipline in the Home", or other parenting topics. These seminars could be done on a following night or morning.

6. Contact CMI today, or call toll free (1-888-345-4264) for more information.

For years you have probably wondered, "How can our church motivate busy parents to take family devotions seriously?" Well, here's your opportunity---
